

PHILIP S. HENRY
WEDS GOVERNESS
OF HIS CHILDREN

Sister-in-Law's Absence Emphasizes Lewisohn Family's Opposition to Match.

Philip S. Henry, of New York, whose first wife was a daughter of the late Leonard Lewisohn, of this city, married Miss Annie Hyatt Wolfe in a private parlor of the Colony Hotel, in London, yesterday.

The ceremony, which was performed by Chief Rabbi Adler, was conducted with the utmost privacy. Only thirty guests were present. Among them were the bridegroom's two brothers, one, Charles S. Henry, M. P., who also married a daughter of the late Leonard Lewisohn. Mrs. Charles S. Henry did not attend the wedding, being ill in Paris. Her absence was taken to confirm the reports from America that the Lewisohn family object to Philip S. Henry's second marriage.

The first Mrs. Henry was burned to death in her home in New York five years ago. After her death the bride of today took care of her two small daughters, Violet and Gladys. She has been called their governess. She is, in fact, a second cousin of her husband. She is a highly intellectual woman, perhaps forty years old, and belongs to a most respected family. Her friends insisted that she had refused several times to marry Mr. Henry.

The parlor in which the wedding took place was beautifully decorated with flowers. The bride wore a white cloth dress, cut in Empire style and trimmed with lace, and a white ermine hat adorned with ostrich feathers; her bouquet was of white carnations.

Three of the bride's sisters and two nieces were among the guests; her brother, Charles Wolfe, gave her away. She received many valuable presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry left for the south of France, and will return to America by way of Genoa in the fall. Mr. Henry is not a poor man by any means in his own right, but his lavish expenditures on his Asheville estate and in entertainments brought down him, it is said, a suggestion from the Lewisohns that the children's interests must be carefully guarded. He maintains the finest private stable in Asheville.

FIRE ALARM KILLS
FRIGHTENED WOMAN

Noise of Engines and Smell of Smoke Causes Sudden Death.

Fright killed Mrs. Fannie Hildebrand in her home, at No. 63 East Fourth street, today, when a relay of fire apparatus dashed up to the house on an alarm from the adjoining apartment house. There was a rag fire in the cellar next door, and the smoke belched up through the hallways of the building in which Mrs. Hildebrand lived with her husband, August, and her son, Harry.

She was sixty-six years old. She had just been discussing with her husband the long period of suspense she went through when he was at the front in the Civil War, a trooper in the First Maryland Cavalry.

When she smelled smoke and heard the clang of the fire engines, she turned pale and gripped her heart. Then she gasped:

"This is just how I felt when I heard that you were killed in the siege of Petersburg, August."

Then she fell over dead.

STEVENS DEAD,
ASSASSIN GLOATS
OVER HIS CRIME

Corean Whose Shots Killed Diplomat Says His Country Is Better Off.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Durham White Stevens, the diplomat, who was shot down by the Corean in Whang-chang on Monday morning, died late last night at St. Francis's Hospital after an operation which disclosed a more serious condition of his wounds than had been apprehended by the surgeons. At his bedside when he died, besides the doctors, was the Japanese Consul-General, Chozo Koike.

Until yesterday morning every hope had been entertained for Stevens's recovery, but at 10 o'clock symptoms of inflammation of the peritoneum appeared, and the surgeons realized that his condition had become critical. At 6 o'clock Stevens was taken to the operating room, and the surgeons discovered that the intestines had been perforated. In six different places by one of the shots fired by Chang, and that the patient had no chance for recovery. Only once during the evening did Stevens show any signs of returning consciousness, when, in answer to a question by one of the doctors, he said that he was in pain. Then he relaxed and lay quietly until the end came at a little after 11 o'clock.

In Whang Chang, the Corean, who fired the shots which proved fatal to Stevens, when informed of his victim's death, received the news without surprise and with manifest delight. Since the day of the shooting Chang has been expressing the hope that Stevens's wounds might prove fatal. When asked if he was sorry for what he had done Chang said: "No; I am glad. He was no friend of Corea and he is better dead."

NEW JERSEY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION IS CALLED.

Sentiment Among Members of State Committee Seems Opposed to Constructing National Delegates. The Democratic State Committee of New Jersey met this afternoon in the office of one Auxiliary State Committee in the Division Building at Washington and Madison streets. Chairman Robert H. Johnson presided. It was decided to call the State Convention at which delegates to the Democratic National Convention will be chosen, in the Trent at Opera House on some date between April 1 and April 15, the exact date depending on when the Opera House can be secured. The primary election is to be held on April 1, and the delegates should be chosen earlier than the convention. No action was taken on the question of the primary election, but the sentiment to be the sentiment of the committee that the delegates should not be elected.

STOCKS ACTIVE, BUT THE PRICES DOWN

Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Pacifics, Reading, St. Paul and Westinghouse Prominent.
